Description of Project:

The successful applicant(s) will be involved in performing interviews of cancer patients and their carers. They will have the opportunity to become part of the Survivorship Research Group team, and the Centre for Medical Psychology and Evidence-based Decision-making (CeMPED), to learn about Survivorship, to gain experience in communicating with cancer patients and other research team members and experience in clinical research. The student has the potential to be able to select a small aspect from the main study, to develop a research question, analyse the data and prepare a journal article with supervision.
